Hop Barley and the Alers is a resource for homebrewers to come together to improve their hobby—their craft. Our club has been an established part of the local beer scene since 1989 and is affiliated with the American Homebrewers Association (AHA) which is part of the Brewers Association, headquartered right here in Boulder, CO.

Our monthly meeting typically consists of a pot luck dinner followed by a featured speaker, beer discussion, or program for the evening. Most meetings include judging the beer style of the month along with reports and announcements.

Our annual AHA / BJCP sanctioned competition is the Reggale and Dredhop Homebrew Competition. For more information, check out our homepage (www.hopbarley.org). This competition is an MCAB qualifying event.

The club also enjoys an annual family picnic, Christmas party, First Fridays Out and sponsors special events during the GABF and promotes participation in competitions held by other clubs across the country. Many members belong to the Beer Judge Certification Program (www.bjcp.org) whose purpose is to promote beer literacy and the appreciation of real beer.
